

A line graph showing a highly volatile time series. The line fluctuates significantly, with several sharp peaks and troughs. The highest peak is located in the upper-middle section of the graph, while the lowest trough is in the lower-left section. The overall trend appears to be relatively flat, with the volatility being the primary characteristic.

